Jalapeno's Insight Consoles are driven by role and interest in specific organization units or programs of work. This allows for relevant strategic content to be delivered to the right people at the right time. Follow the links above to set up your Jalapeno users for Console access.

Jalapeno Insight Consoles take Jalapeno modeled content and displays it in a series of visually graphic and consumable charts and summary tiles, providing strategic insight into decision makers as and when they need it.

Your Jalapeno Product Coach is available to walk you through the set up process at any time.
